N. B.—The Classification of Offences in the several Provincial Returns is not entirely uniform ; and besides, offences of frequent occurrence in some parts of the Kingdom are almost unknown in others ; that of "Turning up Land," for instance, has never taken place in the Northern Counties, and offences arising out of Party Processions are equally unknown in the Southern ; hence the apparent anomalies of the foregoing Recapitulation.

No. 435.—BELGIUM.

(A.)—A STATEMENT of the POPULATION of ANTWERP in the Years 1810, 1820, and 1830.

| 1810 . .               | 55,757          | In 1814 the Population decreased greatly, owing to the departure of the French, so that in 1816 it did not exceed 51,324. The increase since 1820 is attributed to the extension of trade. |

In the years 1827, 1828, and 1829, and the first half of 1830, the shipping of this port was increased greatly by the building of ships for the Batavian trade; but that having been destroyed by the Revolution, several merchants and principal shipowners have left Antwerp with their ships, to the number of 40, and are now established in Holland.

(K.)—A STATEMENT of the POPULATION of BARCELONA in the Years 1807, 1820, and 1830.

| 1807   | 130,000     | The Population, in 1810, is not given, as owing to the Town being in the occupation of the French, considerable emigration took place. The increase, since 1820, is chiefly ascribed to the immigration of families from the interior during the late civil wars. |
| 1820   | 140,000     |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                   |

No. 439.—ITALY.

(A.)—A STATEMENT of the POPULATION of LEGHORN, in the Years 1814, 1820, and 1830.

| 1814   | 47,282      | The increase is chiefly attributed to the return of those who had quitted the town during its possession by the French, and to extensive buildings in the suburbs, which have induced strangers to settle there. |
| 1820   | 62,684      |                                                                                                                                                                                                                  |
| 1830   | 72,924      |                                                                                                                                                                                                                  |
